

BUDGET DEBATE AT OTTAWA NEARS END

Australasians Told Canada Is Ready to Increase Her Imports

Men Attending Education Conference in Vancouver Are Assured by Terminal City Business Leaders Inter-Dominion Trade Can Be Made Greater; Study of Canadian Market Urged.

Vancouver, April 10.—The desire of Canadian business men, especially British Columbians, to import more commodities from Australia and New Zealand was emphasized by President W. C. Woodward and a number of prominent Vancouver commercial men at a conference to-day between representatives of the Vancouver Board of Trade and delegates from Australia and New Zealand in attendance at the sessions of the National Council of Education in this city.

Admitting the trade balance between Australia and Canada rested with Canada, the Vancouver speakers declared this was not altogether the fault of Canadian. Mr. Woodward pointed out that the inclination of "familiarity" was to spend their dollars within the Empire. They would do that when ever given the opportunity.

H. R. MacMillan explained to the visitors that it was easy for the United States to develop machinery for the sale of American produce in Canada. The United States leaders studied Canadian market conditions and gave them what they wanted. Canadians read United States advertisements and lived much the stereotyped life of the Americans.

"The consumer in any country rarely chooses what he wishes," said Mr. MacMillan. "He buys what is put before him. I suggest that Australia make a study of our market conditions."

REVENUE OF C.N.R. SETS NEW RECORD

Ottawa, April 10.—The railway operating revenue of the Canadian National Railways for the year 1928 reached the record figure of $76,631,921. After payment of operating expenses amounting to $218,145,311, taxes amounting to approximately $5,000,000, and other charges, the total operating income was $33,213,729, compared with $10,289,724 in 1927.

FROST MAKES BIG LOSSES

California Fruit Crops Reduced By $55,000,000

Sacramento, Cal., April 10.—California has sustained a crop damage of $55,000,000 from frost in the last two weeks, according to E. E. Kaufman, chief of the federal state crop reporting service.

Unusually low, says Kaufman. It was the lowest blow ever received by the fruit men of the state.

Reports reaching the office of the State Department of Agriculture today indicated that, contrary to the usual occurrence under such conditions, first estimates of the losses were far too conservative. Practically no section, except possibly San Diego and Imperial counties, escaped the scourge of frost. Heavy losses in the deciduous fruit orchards of Riverside and Ventura Counties occurred yesterday.

NEW WHEAT IS EXPECTED TO CUT DOWN RUST LOSSES

Winnipeg, April 10.—Efforts of agricultural scientists to develop a rust-resistant wheat which would save millions of dollars annually are meeting success.

At a meeting here this week of the associate committee on rust research, organized under the auspices of the Federal Department of Agriculture and the National Research Council, reports declared that a rust-resistant wheat which appeared to have good baking and milling qualities had been secured through the efforts of the

FEDERAL INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS ON THE INCREASE

Ottawa, April 10.—There was an increase of $2,851,250 in the total income taxes collected in the year ended March 31 last as compared with the year before, it was announced by Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, in a statement issued to-day. The total for the last year was $50,422,297.

LINDBERGH MYSTIFYING THE PRESS

Mexico-City-Texas Flight Not Explained; Leaves Brownsville For Unknown Point

Friends Believe Lone Eagle Spent Last Night at Ranch Near Tampico

Brownsville, Texas, April 10.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh took off from the Brownsville airport for an unannounced destination shortly after 11 o'clock this forenoon.

Colonel A. Lindbergh had arrived here at 10:30 a.m. to-day from the interior of Mexico, where he had spent the night. He made a statement, saying:

"I regret very much the press has been fit by an unauthorized statement to cause unnecessary anxiety for my safety."

He declared it was of interest to himself and no one else where he had spent the night, and explained he had no intention of flying beyond the border of Mexico after leaving Mexico City yesterday.

Friends and friends of Colonel Lindbergh here said they believed he might have spent the night at a ranch near Tampico.

Period of anxiety. Border airports had felt some concern about Colonel Lindbergh because it was believed he was flying directly to the airport here after leaving from Mexico City at 12:20 p.m. yesterday and his habit of arriving on time rarely is broken.

U.S. NOTE ON I'M ALONE IS DRAFTED

Communication From Ottawa Raises Several Questions About Sinking

Washington, April 10.—Secretary Stimson said to-day the United States Government's reply to the Canadian Government's memorandum of the sinking of the schooner I'm Alone in the Gulf of Mexico was being prepared and that as soon as it had been delivered to the Canadian Minister here both notes would be made public.

Mr. Stimson said the tone of the Canadian note was most temperate and conciliatory. Newspaper accounts giving an impression that the note was truculent, he said, were in error. The reverse was the truth.

The delivery of the United States note to the Canadian Government would be only a matter of a few days, the Secretary said.

April 10 is expected to cover these points:

1. Extension of the scheme of safeguarding industries.

2. A scheme for clearance of slums.

3. Empire development by increased facilities for migration.

4. Development of roads.

5. Sir Thomas Inskip, Secretary-General, in a speech last night, stated the Conservative Party would also promise a programme of opportunities for people to become voluntary contributors to the empire scheme.

Suggestions also receiving further currency in political circles are that Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain, now Minister of Health, will probably be the next Chancellor of the Exchequer.

In the event of the Government being returned with the present Chancellor, Right Hon. Winston Churchill, as

Way Cleared For Budget Vote After Premier's Speech

But Only Sub-amendment May Come to Division in Commons This Afternoon; Amendment and Main Budget Motion To-morrow; Premier King Declares St. Lawrence Waterways and Tariff Entirely Separate in Canada-U.S. Discussion.

Tolmie Reaches Ottawa; Mission There Is Mystery

The mystery of Premier Tolmie's recent disappearance from Victoria was partially solved yesterday when he appeared in the galleries of the House of Commons in Ottawa and listened with interest to Premier King's speech. Dr. Tolmie told newspaper men he would confer with federal ministers during his visit to the capital, but declined to indicate what matters would be discussed. News the Premier had gone to Ottawa caused deep disappointment among his supporters, who had hoped he was taking a complete rest after his recent illness. They fear he will derive little benefit to his health while transacting official business in the capital.

Ottawa, April 10.—With Premier King's contribution to the budget debate made in his speech yesterday afternoon, the way was cleared for a vote in the Commons this afternoon, but a division on the U.F.A. sub-amendment may be all the progress the House will make before the adjournment at 6 p.m.

W. C. Bock, Liberal, Maple Creek, Saskatchewan, moved the adjournment last night and will continue the debate this afternoon. Hon. W. A. Black, Conservative, Halifax, is expected to follow. The party whips do not anticipate any other speakers before the vote on the sub-amendment, but there is a probability one or more members will exercise their right to speak again after the first vote has been taken. As Wednesday is a day of 6 o'clock adjournment, that would put over the division on the Conservative amendment and the main budget motion until to-morrow.

The outstanding features of Premier King's address yesterday afternoon were his clear declaration that the St. Lawrence Waterways proposal would be kept wholly separate from the tariff question by the Government in its dealings with the United States and that in handling the tariff question the Government would adopt no hasty or ill-considered course, but would continue to take a "cool-headed attitude," considering the interests of all Canada.

Premier King spoke for nearly three hours, the speech being followed with close attention by crowded galleries and a fairly well filled House. He was given an ovation from the Liberal side at the conclusion of the address.

JUDGE ON TRIAL IN CALIFORNIA

Legislature Committee Hears Evidence on Carlos Hardy's Conduct

Sacramento, Cal., April 10.—With evidence attempted to be introduced that Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles obstructed justice in the investigation of Almerie Semple McPherson's kidnapping story, the California Legislature Assembly heard of managers turned its attention to-day toward proving the fourth and last article of impeachment against the jurist—attempted intimidation of a potential witness.

Two of those witnesses, Frank Dewar, Frank Moodle and J. W. Buckman, gave testimony relative to an independent investigation of McPherson's kidnapping story following her disappearance two years ago. The articles of impeachment filed against Judge Hardy state he had charge of this investigation and that his interest on his part was an apparent attempt to obstruct justice during inquiries conducted by the Los Angeles County grand jury and the district attorney's office.

Washington, April 10.—The diplomatic corps here at a meeting at the British Embassy to-day, decided to accord to Mrs. Edward Everett Child, sister and official hostess of Vice-President Coolidge, the social status which would normally be accorded to the wife of a Vice-president.

Bernstorff, German Spokesman, Advocates World Disarmament

Starnberg, Germany, April 10.—Count von Bernstorff, chairman of the German delegation to the League of Nations disarmament preparatory conference, on the eve of his departure to-day for Geneva expressed the opinion that the treaty outlawing war was necessary and should be followed by world disarmament, and the adoption of a general part for the settlement of all disputes by legal means.

The Preparatory Disarmament Commission is to meet April 15.

RUSH OF SETTLERS TO PEACE RIVER DISTRICT NOW SEEN

Edmonton, April 10.—Nearly 1,000 settlers with a total capital estimated at approximately $1,500,000 have gone west to the Peace River district, according to date this year according to colonization officers here.

The real rush of settlers commences in April. Last April 1,200 settlers went in. This April a conservative estimate places the figure at 1,500 and the favorable start already made this month indicates that estimate is likely to be exceeded.

The settlers are in the majority of cases Canadian and United States families of excellent type. Probably ninety per cent. of them are seeking homesteads, which means that a great bulk of the settlement will be on new land.

Lands beyond railway extensions both north and south of the Peace River are favored, the homesteaders being about equally divided between Fairview on the north side of the river, and Hythe, on the Grand Prairie extension south of the river.

AT THE THEATRES

INTRIGUE AND LOVE BASIS OF COLUMBIA FILM

"Forbidden Love," starring Lili Damita, the great European sensation, is now on view at the Columbia Theatre.

Miss Damita, a French player of remarkable charm and magnetism, is seen as a princess of Krayia who goes to Paris after the sudden death of her dissipated and cruel husband, in an effort to forget her sorrowful past.

At a magnificent ball she meets Sabien Paschal, a successful novelist, portrayed by the noted German screen player, Paul Richter. They fall in love with each other and are about to be married when the princess learns that her husband has returned to the throne. She leaves Paris a slave to duty, and sacrifices her love. Assassins seek to kill her and a series of dramatic episodes follow in quick succession. There is a smashing and wholly unexpected climax.

LEON CLUFF SCORES SUCCESS IN TRAMP ROLE AT COLISEUM

Telling the tragic story of a deluded and astray and then deserted by his passionately loving, Leon Cluff scores a signal success in the role of an Italian tramp, in the play "Toby—Hollywood Bound" on the Coliseum stage this week.

Volcano in Eruption Is Film Feature

Dramatic in every development and building up to a climax which is punctuated by the eruption of a volcano, "Tropic Madness," FBO's feature stands out as one of the season's most striking screen offerings.

Leatrice Joy, famed for many film successes and who has recently added to her laurels by her rendition of a stage role, portrays the principal character with the artistry and dramatic power that have won her a commanding position in the screen world. The role is that of a London society woman whose husband, following an estrangement, secretly sends her little son to a South Sea island in charge of a trader friend of his, in order to revenge himself on the mother, and commit suicide.

Lena Malena, George Barrand, Henry Sedley, David Durrant and Albert Valente are in the supporting cast.

FINE CAST FOR "DESERT SONG"

Same Players Who Performed For Year in California to Appear Here

Perry Askam is still playing the Red Shadow and Elvira Tanzi the prima donna role in "The Student Prince," production of the Romberg operetta, "The Desert Song," which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 22, 23, 24, with a Wednesday matinee.

The company is the same which played over a year in California. Never in the history of California theatrically has a musical play endured such a phenomenal run or acquired such a hold on the public as has this production of "The Desert Song," with the fascinating score by Sigmund Romberg, who is also responsible for "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time" and various other popular musical scores.

Referring to the screen, "Desert Song" is the latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring feature, "Desert Nights," a synchronized film, which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre for the last time to-night.

Although there are several hundred people seen at various times throughout the picture, the observer will disclose that Mary Nolan, who appears in the feminine lead, is the only member of her sex seen. There are literally hundreds of men at work in the diamond mines in the opening sequence, and several squads of soldiers, but for all this motley crowd not one other woman appears.

DIAMOND MINE ROBBERY PLOT OF SOUND FILM

For the first time in his entire motion picture career, John Gilbert plays a villain in which there is but one woman. It is in his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring feature, "Desert Nights," a synchronized film, which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre for the last time to-night.

START INQUIRY INTO LAND VALUE

Crysdale to Consider P.G.E. Areas; Railways Sending Experts

The second phase of the Government's Pacific Great Eastern Railway problem, an examination of the value of land blocks set aside for the benefit of the line, will start immediately under C. R. Crysdale, for many years assistant engineer with Alberta Government Railways. He is expected to-day to commence this inquiry with the consideration of data on the railway lands already on file in the railway department.

Meanwhile the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways have announced that they will send representatives to the inquiry to co-operate with Mr. Crysdale and with J. Callaghan, deputy minister of railways for Alberta, who will locate a route for the line from Quesnel to Prince George.

After data on the railway lands has been examined here, the experts will start into these districts to make a further investigation in the field.

WAY CLEARED FOR BUDGET VOTE AFTER PREMIER'S SPEECH

GUTHRIE'S SPEECH ANALYZED

In his opening remarks Mr. King declared the speech delivered by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, Wellington South, Ont., a month ago, in his double capacity as Acting Leader of the Opposition and financial critic, had attracted considerable attention. Mr. Guthrie had taken full advantage of his temporary position to cover many subjects that were likely to be of interest in political discussion for the next year or so.

Mr. Guthrie had said one thing with which the Prime Minister agreed, and it was that the present was a time of unbounded prosperity, but Mr. Guthrie had devoted some considerable time to an effort to discover ways with which to credit that prosperity to some other factor than the present administration.

Government supporters were also free to speculate that if the Conservatives had been in office the prosperity of the country would not have been what it is now.

Prosperity had manifested itself in manufacturing and trade increases, in employment and decreases in unemployment, increased activity of business, greater prosperity of banks and enhanced savings by the people.

It might be well to give a few facts, Premier King continued, to indicate how general the prosperity was.

CROP ACREAGE INCREASES

From the moment the Government had found it possible to balance the public accounts, prosperity had been maintained in Canada. The acreage under cultivation during 1928 had been enormous and a vast tract of new land had been put into crops. The total yield of wheat, for example, was 135,000,000 bushels above the five-year average 1921-26.

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICIES

No matter how the Conservative members would strive to give credit to the restoration of confidence in the splendid condition of Canada, it would be difficult for them to make the country believe the policies of the Government were not in a large part responsible.

The prosperity of Canada, Mr. King asserted, was due in no small measure to the constructive policies of the present Government. The Canadian National Railways which were an aggregation of bankrupt lines, had been changed under the present administration to one of the country's greatest assets.

TARIFF REDUCTIONS

The Minister of Finance had reduced the duties on imported goods in the list in all the basic industries of this country since the present Government came into power, the Prime Minister pointed out. The reduction of the duty of to-day was the result of such budget changes. In many other ways, Mr. King stated, it could be shown that the Government's policy of tariff reduction had aided in the prosperity of the country now enjoyed.

VIEW OF FARMERS

On January 31, 1928, a communication had been addressed to the United States Government by Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister at Washington, in which reference had been made to the tariff reference in a way which showed the wisdom of not dealing with one subject when discussing another.

Mr. King stated that the tariff reduction was a factor which had probably prevented Canadian public opinion being in favor of the St. Lawrence waterway.

In connection with such matters the first to recognize the Canadian Government would take such steps as would be beneficially affect Canada's own interests. It was the intention of the Canadian Government, however, in its relations with the United States and its relations with Great Britain to go as far as possible to advance mutual interests.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

The amendment of the Progressive group asked for consideration of an increase in the British preference. Mr. King took the position that such an increase might also be considered provocative at the present time. His Government would continue to deal with each situation as it arose in the light of conditions as they then existed.

Conservative members had been very cunning in respect to the tariff situation. Premier King said, and had sought to manufacture a debate on something that might happen next year.

The Opposition, he continued, had in its discussion referred to a tariff wall that was wholly imaginary. In fact, the Conservative Party had chosen its ground well, because it was well versed in jingoism, especially in respect to the United States.

It is not so much a red-headed attitude we want," the Premier went on, "but a red-headed attitude and that is the attitude the Government has taken ever since it has come into office and it is the attitude it intends to continue to take."

CONSERVATIVE DEFEATS

The Conservative amendment was really one for increased protection. Premier King declared. On this policy, though, the opposition had been defeated in 1921, 1923 and 1926. It received a "knockout" since then and at the Winnipeg Conservative convention the Conservative Party had been careful not to use the word "protection" in the amendment had resorted to the word "safeguarding."

The Conservatives, in their amendment, seek to have the House express regret "that the financial progress of the Government make no provision for reasonably safeguarding and protecting the interests of those engaged in agricultural pursuits or in industrial employment in Canada."

The Government, Premier King said, intended to study the question of increasing the British preference as advocated in the U.P.A. sub-amendment and would deal with the word "safeguarding" in the interests of Canada.

Speaking of the St. Lawrence waterway and the situation between Canada and the United States, Premier King said:

"I want to make this position clear. Of late there has been brought into the discussion of the adjustment of the tariff reference to the St. Lawrence waterway. Representations have been made to the effect that in some way or other these two questions are being discussed together, that the question is being made to relate in some measure to the other. May I say that I can conceive of no greater misfortune than that the question of the tariff reference should be mixed up in any way with the question of the tariff of this country, or that the question of the tariff of Canada should be related in any way to the question of the development of the St. Lawrence."

C. H. Canah, K.C., Conservative, St. Lawrence, St. George, Montreal, asked the Prime Minister if there had been any correspondence with the United States Government in connection with the matter.

There had been correspondence, Premier King replied. He wished to point out that when it came to the solution of international problems success depended on the atmosphere of trust and goodwill of the people interested in the transaction. It was all related to avoid a hostile feeling.

HON. E. LAPOINTE RECEIVES GIFT

Friends Contribute $125,000 to Assure Him Income For Life

Ottawa, April 10.—The Ottawa Journal yesterday carried the following:
"Friends and admirers of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, have contributed a total of $125,000 to assure him of an income of $6,000 for the rest of his life.
"Mr. Lapointe was anxious to retire some time ago and take a Supreme Court judgeship, but men high in the councils of the Liberal Party prevailed upon him to remain at his post.
"The gift raised is an expression of admiration and good will from Mr. Lapointe's many friends in his party.
"The Minister of Justice has been sitting in the House for twenty-five years, being first elected, by acclamation, at a by-election in 1904."

NEW RAIL PLAN BEING OPPOSED

San Francisco, April 10.—Application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to build a comparatively insignificant 200 miles of railroad from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Patton or Keddle, Cal., has aroused Western transportation companies in the most determined opposition since the rolling days when the Hill and Harriman interests were his.
With the Western Pacific and Great Northern as allies, an offensive has been instituted to penetrate into the vast empire of the Southwest to compete for traffic in the stronghold of the Southern Pacific.
For more than a quarter of a century here has been discussion of the possibility of the Hill lines breaking through into this territory, but it is only recently that a definite and open move has been made.

The immediate objective of the Western Pacific and Great Northern is to gain a joint through route from Vancouver, B.C., Seattle, Portland and Spokane to San Francisco, and from those northern points to Salt Lake City, Denver and Omaha. The eventual objective is declared by the two roads to be the opening up of a new competitive route from Canada to the Mexican border.
To close the gap between Klamath Falls and Patton, the Western Pacific proposes building 120 miles and the Great Northern eighty miles of railroad, meeting at Lookout, Cal.
The two lines which appear in the petition for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the physical coupling of the Western Pacific and Great Northern, operate 9,540 miles of railroad. The Southern Pacific, chief opponent of the granting of the certificates, has 8,500 miles in its coast system.

Cape Henry, Va., April 10.—The wind-swept sands of Cape Henry, which first felt the impress of Capt. John Smith and his doughty band will be the scene of a great memorial service April 26, just 322 years after the landing.
The first permanent English settlement in America grew out of the expedition which Captain Smith led, and his decision to settle on the spot of his landing. The sandy spit was not suitable for a settlement and Captain Smith ordered his three vessels higher up the James. Because deep water alongside the banks permitted the vessels to be tied to trees, the colonists selected the present site of Jamestown and there established themselves.

The memorial service will be chiefly religious in character. Bishop James E. Freeman of Washington and Bishop Bertrid D. Tucker of Virginia having active charge of the exercises. The Governors of North Carolina, Virginia and Massachusetts will attend, representing early colonial settlements of those three states. President Hoover also has been invited.

Captain Smith and his followers have been installed in chosen niches of Virginia history and the vicinity of their activities is marked liberally with monuments to their memory. This first large-scale memorial service in their honor, is expected to attract several thousand persons from the Atlantic Coast states.

Interest in the settlement of Manitoba's Hudson Bay port continued to increase, Mr. McKenzie said. The Government would concentrate its efforts on the townships of Cranberry Portage and Sherritt Gordon, the Minister added.

London, April 10.—An impression of the tense political situation obtaining in Great Britain at present, almost in the shadows of the coming general election, was reflected in a symposium published to-day by The London Evening Standard, in which the Conservative members of Parliament gave their forecasts of the election results. The average gave the Government party a majority of only sixty seats, representing a reduction of 125 seats in the present majority.

The most optimistic forecast in The Evening Standard tabulation gave the Conservatives a majority of 130, while the lowest majority was estimated at seven seats.

The Congo Government apparently has been unable to compel the rich and dominant race to kill its cattle and feed the slave Bahutis during the famine.

Meanwhile the skeletons of natives, especially women and children, who perished in their desperate efforts to reach relief stations in Uganda, are scattered along the route of the terrible famine trek. Lions, leopards and hyenas in great numbers infest the area. Bitter complaints have been voiced over the alleged ill-treatment in some places of starving natives caught stealing from unguarded food dumps.

Halifax, April 10.—Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Premier and Provincial Secretary-Treasurer, presented his annual budget in the Nova Scotia Legislature yesterday afternoon, providing for a total revenue of $7,071,536, and a total expenditure of $7,930,562, leaving a deficit of $859,026.

BOMB SCARE WAS MAN'S ATTEMPT TO WIN PROMOTION

New York, April 10.—Postal Inspector Samuel J. Roosevelt of New York State last Sunday "to win promotion by discovering it before it was delivered."

BUSH TRIBES IN AUSTRALIA ASKED IF FLIERS SEEN

Searchers on Foot in Australian Trace Down Kingsford-Smith Clue

Sydney, Aus., April 10.—Yesterday's lively hopes for the safety of Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Lieut. C. T. Ulm, and the two other missing Southern Cross fliers were not entirely abandoned to-day, although they seemed to rest on very flimsy ground.
A relief plane flying yesterday over the Drysdale Mission Station in North-western Australia, exchanged signals from the air with mission workers there in a dramatic fashion, raising the information that the Southern Cross was down between that station and Port George.
A point on the coast about thirty miles distant was specified and the pilot, whose name was Woods, was led to believe the mission workers had gained the information from bushmen or natives. They were unable to tell him of the condition of the castaways.
He traveled in the direction indicated and saw some natives and smoke signals, but failed to find the monoplane. After flying around a wide arc, he went to Derby and filed messages relating his adventure. It was understood here it was intended to follow the clue by sending searchers afoot who could make attempts to question the natives.

Conservatives In Manitoba Legislature Talking Of Blockade

Winnipeg, April 10.—Premier John Bracken in a statement made in the Manitoba Legislature last night, characterized threats of the Conservative members to adopt "blockade tactics" until he had answered their questions dealing with the proposed alliance of Liberals and Progressives as "stupid."
"I hope better judgment will prevail," said Mr. Bracken. "If it should not, however, I am quite prepared to let the public pass judgment on their actions."
In a measure, the threats were put into operation yesterday when Joseph Bernier, Conservative, St. Boniface, and other members of the Opposition spoke for nearly the whole of the six hours the Legislature was in session, effectively blocking the passage of a single item of the estimates.

PLAN OF CO-OPERATION
In the course of his statement, Premier Bracken said he would say nothing that could further co-operation between the Liberals and the Government. As to the question asked in that regard by the Conservative speaker, he said:
"I simply wish to say, and I say it with all deference, that it is still the Liberals' own business. Let me say under that, if there should be a decision, we do not consider ourselves under any obligation to report it to the Conservative Party. There is every prospect of the most sympathetic co-operation between the two groups."
The Premier added that no decision had been made as to the holding of by-elections.

MAY SEEK RE-ELECTION
Mr. Bracken declared, however, that it was possible, W. J. Major, former Attorney-General, and W. H. Clubb, former Minister of Public Works, would seek re-election with a view to re-statement in their portfolios.
"I am not saying they are coming back, but they have as much right to as anyone else," he said.

Starving Tribes In Belgian Congo Are Given Aid

Kampala, Uganda, British East Africa, April 10.—The famine-drought-stricken area of the Belgian Congo was visited by heavy rains yesterday, which made the prospects for future crops excellent, but left the immediate situation of the perishing Bahutis tribesmen still deplorable.
Conditions have improved with the organization of relief efforts. Government food distribution is working well, and agricultural stations have distributed seeds with supervision to ensure that they are really planted.
The Congo Government apparently has been unable to compel the rich and dominant race to kill its cattle and feed the slave Bahutis during the famine.

Meanwhile the skeletons of natives, especially women and children, who perished in their desperate efforts to reach relief stations in Uganda, are scattered along the route of the terrible famine trek. Lions, leopards and hyenas in great numbers infest the area. Bitter complaints have been voiced over the alleged ill-treatment in some places of starving natives caught stealing from unguarded food dumps.

GERMANY AND DISARMAMENT

WHATEVER MAY HAVE BEEN his attitude during the war when he was Germany's ambassador to the United States, the statement which Count von Bernstorff made to-day before he left for the League of Nations preparatory conference on disarmament would appear to be a recognition on his part that his country's course in her own best interests should be one of peaceful intercourse with the other nations of the world. He described the Kellogg pact to outlaw war as a necessary agreement which should be followed by world disarmament and the adoption of a general understanding for the settlement of all international disputes by legal means.

There still may be a disposition in some quarters to regard such declarations from eminent German public men with a certain amount of scepticism, especially in view of the occasional jingoistic outburst from some elements not altogether without influence in the land, but the fact remains that every time the new Germany joins the nations, which formerly were her adversaries, in undertakings to reduce the risk of armed conflict, she assumes moral obligations that may not be as lightly set aside as they sometimes were before the world received its terrible chastening between 1914 and 1918.

It must not be forgotten, however, that Germany virtually is disarmed; but it is all to the good that her statesmen do their part towards cultivating the new outlook with respect to world affairs which has been manifesting itself as the new system of government has continued to gain favor with the masses of the German people. The lead in practical disarmament, of course, will have to be taken by the powers which still are maintaining imposing naval and military organizations.

Germany obligated herself voluntarily some weeks ago to discard the use of poison gas in such future wars as may break out. This also is a striking sign of the times and evidence of the influence which the League of Nations is wielding. The other great powers generally have approved this principle; but it is worthy of more than passing notice that the country which instigated this dreadful method of warfare should publicly declare against its barbarity and the terrible suffering it brings to the individual combatant.

The paramount interest of the League, naturally, is to prevent all war and to substitute arbitration for appeals to force; but every mitigation of the horrors of such wars as may occur, despite all its efforts, is another major ideal in its humanitarian programme. Even the most sanguine optimist cannot expect it will banish war within a few years. Since the League came into existence, for example, no fewer than twelve minor wars have been waged in various parts of the world, three of which are in progress at the present time. But there is every reason to believe that the League will be a potent factor in preventing great international conflicts and in banishing many of the horrors which made the last catastrophe the most horrible in history.

WASTE AT ITS WORST

IN THE APRIL ISSUE OF HYGEIA, the health magazine of the American Medical Association, Donald A. Laird tells how a psychologist recently descended on a group of ordinary day laborers who were busy digging a sewer ditch and gave them intelligence tests.

Most of the laborers reacted in an ordinary way. But three or four of them, to the amazement of the psychologist, proved that they had unusual intelligence. Their brains were keen enough for them to become members of the professions. The marks they got on the tests were about what would be expected, say, of an average good lawyer.

Yet, fitted by Nature to work with their brains, they were doing jobs that any ordinary half-wit with a husky physique could do just as well as they.

Waste of that kind is waste that hurts the whole country. It is more serious than waste of oil, of coal, of power, of timber, of soil. Yet it is a matter that seldom gets any attention. We expect it to right itself. We take it for granted that every man will somehow find his way into the place where he can exercise all of his faculties and powers to the best advantage—and carelessly overlook the hundreds and thousands of cases where this fails to happen.

The psychologist who tested these ditch diggers did not bother to find out why the three or four men of above-the-average intelligence happened to be digging ditches. Probably we would not be much wiser if he had. The thing is not uncommon, and there is a variety of reasons for it. We are fairly familiar with most of them.

Much as we talk about the "glorious opportunities" of our country, the plain fact remains that many, many people never get a fair break. It is nonsense to say that every man gets just what he is entitled to. Many a perfect dumb-bell who had the good fortune to be born of wealthy parents is occupying a pleasant, highly-salaried position to-day, while another man, with a brain ten times as good as his, who came from the depths of poverty and misfortune, and never had a chance to develop his latent abilities, is working as a day laborer.

This is the kind of waste that demands checking most of all. Every brain that lies unused when it might have been put to work in the service of the Dominion represents a loss that can never be made good.

THE U.F.A. SUB-AMENDMENT

IRRESPECTIVE OF A TECHNICAL political situation which might temporarily embarrass the Government if the U.F.A. sub-amendment to the Budget should pass, its principle—further reductions in the duty on goods imported by this country from Great Britain—is one which for long has been an important cornerstone of Liberal policy, a policy followed by the King Administration since it came into office, and one which might be pursued still further, as the sub-amendment advocates, irrespective of what fiscal policies other countries adopt.

As we already have pointed out in these columns, the U.F.A. sub-amendment is by no means critical; it merely seeks to suggest to the Government that it would be well advised to take further legislative steps to facilitate the admission of more British goods to Canada by reducing the rates of duty in the present tariff schedule. And our attitude towards the subject should be influenced only by considerations which are purely Canadian. It is true that ever since Sir Wilfrid Laurier established the British Preference in 1897 it has been bitterly opposed by the forces of Conservatism; but the Canadian people as a whole are heartily in favor of the development of trade within the Empire. In addition to the concessions which have been given to the British exporter, the King Government, of course, has negotiated reciprocal trade treaties with Australia and the British West Indies, arrangements which have proved beneficial, not only because they are economically sound, but also because they have as their objective the strengthening of business relations between the various countries which compose the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Incidentally, moreover, the original proposal which Sir Wilfrid Laurier adopted had no regard for the feelings of other nations. It was entirely without strings. Nor has his successor in office departed from the principle thus established. And in view of the fact that the Budget which now is being debated provides for the reduction of duty on certain classes of mining machinery which we import from Great Britain, there is no conflict of view in the relationship of the Government's well-established policy with the spirit of the sub-amendment which the U.F.A. representation in the House has introduced.

PROOF OF PROSPERITY

IN A STATEMENT ISSUED BY HON. W. D. Euler at Ottawa to-day it is announced that there was an increase of $2,851,250 in the total of income taxes collected in the year ending March 31 last as compared with the preceding fiscal year. The total for the period in question was $59,422,297.

Nobody expects taxpayers to be especially enthusiastic over Mr. Euler's announcement. The announcement to which they are looking forward is one which will tell them that the country is able to get along quite nicely in a financial way without demanding the donation of a certain percentage of their hard-earned wages to the national treasury. At the same time, there is a significance in this substantial increase in income tax collections.

It would not be fair to cast any reflection upon the honesty of Canadian citizens; but it is only reasonable to suppose when taxpayers fill out their income returns for the year that, if they err at all, it might be on the side which gives them the advantage. In other words, the fact that there has been this increase in collections is new evidence of the most reliable kind that the country as a whole continues to increase its prosperity.

This is important, because the Canadian people must continue to bear a heavy financial burden for many years to come. The country is doing well. Hon. Mr. Robb is increasing revenue, liquidating the national debt, although he has reduced taxation with each successive budget. But he reminded the taxpayers of the country some time ago that the income tax will be with them for some years yet.

NOTE AND COMMENT

At the National Council of Education meetings in Vancouver considerable discussion has taken place with respect to the amount of literature which comes into Canada from the United States compared with the amount Great Britain sends us. The point which always should be borne in mind in matters of this sort is that people will buy what interests them and not what other people think they should buy. The proper way to curb the desire for foreign periodicals is to produce more of our own of equal or better quality.

Broadcasting political speeches in Great Britain does not appear to be the success it was hoped it might be. It is a small wonder, for so easy to turn off the flow of oratory and turn the dial to a jazz programme.

Who remembers the old-fashioned days when the villain in the drama was supposed to be wicked?

No one can pretend that the House of Commons is the same respect that it formerly did.—Lord Salisbury.

The woman question for centuries has been "What did she have on?"—Chicago Daily News.

Cease from anger and forsake wrath; fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.—Psalms xxxviii. 1.
Bad temper is its own scourge.—Charles Burton.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

SLAUGHTER ON THE SEA

The New York Herald-Tribune
To shell and sink a smuggler, carrying no guns, in a rough sea, at hazard of life, commends ill modern punitive methods. The loss of a Canadian citizen as a result is a matter of the deepest regret, however flagrant may have been the smuggling record of the ship. The parallel lies with the cutter of the law who needlessly shoots down an unarmed criminal attempting to escape. Every principle of humane justice as of the seafaring code runs strongly against such slaughter and risk of life.

TARIFF REVISION

The Philadelphia Ledger
The weight of opinion, as shown in the House hearings, favors an immediate and upward general revision of the Tariff Act. The Administration is not in sympathy with a sweeping revision. Administration policy, so far as is known, points toward limited changes. The agricultural duties must, of course, have an overhauling in connection with farm relief. The cement industry seems to be listed for immediate help. Textiles, apparently, are marked for immediate attention. However, the plan has been to hold back from and discourage any general and thoroughgoing redrafting of the present tariff law.

HIGH TARIFF AND LOW TARIFF

The Manitoba Free Press
If the United States tariff is raised and our markets are cut off, the Canadian people will experience the same feeling in regard to imports from the United States as the people of other countries would feel toward imports from Canada if our tariff were increased in the manner so strongly urged by the Conservative party at Ottawa. This is a point of view which might well be kept in mind by the farmers of western Canada, who are now producing far more grain and livestock than this Dominion can consume, and who must either curtail production or find markets in foreign countries for this surplus.

THE JONES LAW

The New York World
For nine years it has been the worst curse of United States prohibition that it smothered a great public question under thick layers of hypocrisy. The law had plainly broken down; yet Congress did nothing either to enforce it or amend it, and the President averted his eyes from a perplexing problem and looked the other way. Now we have reached a stage when Congress, if it still declines to foot the bill for a real effort at enforcement, has at least adopted a law which gives the country a taste of the tyranny to which it must submit and the penalties it must inflict if it intends to make prohibition the chief business of the Government. To have come even this far out of hypocrisy toward an honest facing of the fact is progress.

FOR FLAX GROWING

The Brandon Sun
During the last two years seed has been produced in Canada for the requirements of Irish flax growers, and, according to the Minister of Agriculture, further progress in establishing this market was made in 1928 and some 1,200 bushels of seed shipped. It has been pointed out that the factors which make the Irish climate suited to flax production make it unsuited for seed production, and fresh authorities became interested in the possibility of Canada producing their seed. Initial efforts have been attended with a gratifying success, and what this trade might eventually mean to Canada may be gathered from the fact that requirements run to 8,000,000 pounds of seed annually.

THE I'M ALONE INCIDENT

The New York Sun
There is no question of the character of the vessel that was sunk by the Coast Guard. There may be a question whether she was inside the twelve-mile limit when first chased by the patrol boat Wolcott. There may be a question whether the pursuit, first by the Wolcott and then by the Dexter, was honest, and whether the Secretary Mellon is right in his statement that the patrol officers are correct in both these respects. The fact remains that the British Government never abandoned the principle of the three-mile limit and never acceded to the application of the right of hot pursuit in a chase begun outside the three-mile line. If the British Government has decided not to press this case, it undoubtedly is because of the notorious character of the I'm Alone and not because London retreats from her old contention. At that, it would be well for the two Governments to look calmly into the facts, possibly making it certain that no such incident with its unpleasant reactions on both sides of the Atlantic, shall occur again.

THE WHITE ROBIN

To the Editor:—Perhaps you already know what I am about to tell you in regard to the white robin. There are two or three in the museum in Victoria in a case with the albino birds. I saw one in about two years ago, not all white, but enough to be classed with the albino birds. I saw one once at 17 Mile Post all white, but I could not get it. They don't mix with the other robins, their note is a little different, but I never heard one sing, so it is far from being a mascot.

J. W. MAWLE

R.M.D. No. 1, Victoria, April 8, 1929.

VICTORIA MINIMUM TEMPERATURES

To the Editor:—The marked difference between minimum temperatures in the sheltered and warm Gorge suburb of Victoria, on a tested thermometer hung 10 feet from the ground, as compared with the temperatures reported as "Victoria Minimum Temperatures" by the Meteorological Department (Gonzales Observatory) is worthy of notice. A few samples follow:

Date	Gorge	Victoria
March 30	27 degrees	25 degrees
April 4	25 degrees	23 degrees
April 6	25 degrees	23 degrees
April 8	25 degrees	23 degrees

Owing to special conditions, Gonzales Observatory is said to regularly record higher than general Victoria temperatures in winter and lower than general Victoria temperatures in summer. In the circumstances, it is interesting to note that the meteorological department's "Victoria temperatures" are lower than the actual temperatures recorded at the Gonzales Observatory.

I would suggest that Observatory officials in the interests of scientific correctness, and the city officials, move for a more correct position from which to record temperatures. Perhaps the City Hall or Parliament Buildings—so that there may be no ground in this respect for the "characteristic Victorian exaggeration."

JAPAN TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW

Osaka Mainichi Company's Magazine Tells of Latest Progress of Orient

"Japan To-day and To-morrow" is the title of a 175-page magazine recently published by the Osaka Mainichi Publishing Company. A review of activities in the land of the rising sun from all angles is given in this publication, which is beautifully illustrated in color and rotogravure. Finance, industries, labor, social life, poetry, education, naval and military strength, trade and various other subjects are discussed, not only by prominent Japanese writers but by foreign minds. "Japan-Quo Vadis" is the title of an introductory article to the publication.

The Osaka Mainichi Company is the largest publishing company in Japan and one of the most modern in the world. It publishes the Osaka Mainichi and the Tokyo Nichi Nichi, the former having a daily circulation of 1,370,000 copies and the latter 858,000 copies.

AEROPLANE SERVICE
Both papers maintain an elaborate network system of news transmission all over the world with their own correspondents at the key points. In Japan, the entire country is equally well covered with facilities for news transmission supplemented with telephone apparatus. The Osaka-Tokyo direct telephone wire, several aeroplanes and carrier pigeons.

The Osaka Mainichi issues eight different morning editions of eight pages each, an evening edition of four pages and twenty-four different provincial and local supplements every day to go with the paper proper.

The Nichi Nichi publishes seven morning editions and three evening editions besides twenty-six provincial and local supplements. The Nichi Nichi covers the northeastern part of the empire.

LARGE PAYROLL
The Mainichi numbers on its payroll 2,083 persons which with the 2,992 on the Nichi Nichi staff make a total of 4,975 persons employed by the company. Each paper maintains a well-organized enterprise bureau which controls the most important news items and all sports events supported by the papers. Specially notable is this bureau's social welfare work, with a circuit hospital and a hospital ship, giving medical aid gratis to the poor.

Besides three Shippin presses each, the Mainichi has two Hoe high speed presses and four Marlin type presses and the Nichi Nichi has nine Hoe presses and three Marlin presses.

In the course of a duel in France the parties discharged their pistols without effect, whereupon one of the seconds proposed that the combatants should shake hands. To this the other second objected. "It is quite unnecessary," said he: "their hands have been on each other's throats for an hour."

REGIONAL CONTROL IS SUGGESTED

Common Needs of Municipalities Could Be Handled Without Fusion, Says Expert

Working Arrangement Suggested as First Step Towards Greater Victoria Plan

The creation of a regional commission which, without the necessity for actual union, would be given powers to administer services common to Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich, is suggested by J. H. Doughty-Davies, former zoning engineer, and now a member of the Zoning Board of Appeal, as a workable first step in the Greater Victoria movement.

Mr. Davies cites the operation of regional control in Western Canada, Great Britain and the United States as evidence of the success of the plan when operated in larger centres. Regional control has been established in eight areas in Canada, including the Greater Vancouver Water Board, the Winnipeg Water District, the Essex Board of Waterworks, the Ottawa Regional District and at other points, chiefly in the East.

WIDE CONTROL
The Essex Board of Waterworks Commission, states Mr. Davies, administers common-purpose needs of eight incorporated municipalities and the city of Windsor. It deals with water supply, sewerage, health, parks and town-planning.

An enlarged form of regional control is seen in the Philadelphia Tri-State District, where 357 municipal units are combined in regard to common services under a single regional control. In Great Britain, there are some fifty regions where regional control is exercised in a co-operative sense over 600 urban and rural districts.

To my mind it is a question of civilized co-operation in a common cause, or the perpetuation of a state of jealous isolation," concluded Mr. Davies, who proposes to take the matter up with the Greater Victoria committee of the Kiwanis Club.

VETERANS LOSE VALUED FRIEND

Major J. H. Gillespie's Passing Mourned By Ex-Servicemen

Expressions of regret at the loss of a valuable friend in Major J. H. Gillespie were voiced at the meeting of the Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., last night.

G. A. Gill, president, pointed out that Major Gillespie was a past president of the organization, and his passing would be a great loss not only to the branch but to ex-service men in general. A standing vote of condolence was extended to the widow and family.

T. G. Coventry was named first vice-president to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Colonel F. A. Robertson, D.S.O., who will leave for the mainland shortly. Mr. Coventry's position on the executive will be filled by M. Fox.

Colonel Robertson, L. A. Whitlaw, J. W. Berry, T. Mayo and H. P. Thorpe, secretary of the Pro Patria branch of the Canadian Legion, were named as delegates to the provincial convention of the Canadian Legion at Chilliwack, May 9, 10 and 11.

Eight new members were accepted.

SOCIAL WAR IN WASHINGTON AT A CRITICAL STAGE

State Department Puts Onus of Mrs. Everett Gann's Status on Diplomats

Society Watches With Interest Seating at Chilean Minister's Dinner Thursday

Washington, April 10.—Secretary Stimson of the state department yesterday washed his hands of Washington's social row, placing upon the diplomatic corps the full responsibility for the seating of Mrs. Everett Gann, sister and designated heiress of Vice-President Curtis, at diplomatic dinners.

ANSWERING the protest of the Vice-president against the seating of Mrs. Gann at the dinner of foreign diplomats at the dinner of Mrs. Stimson, the problem was one for diplomats and not for the State Department to decide.

Shortly after the decision was made public, a meeting of the diplomatic corps was called to consider it. There were indications that the heads of the foreign missions would abide by any decision that might be reached at the forthcoming gathering.

At the British Embassy it was said Sir Esme Howard, ambassador from Great Britain, who as dean of the diplomatic corps transmitted the question to a ruling on the question to the State Department, had no comment to make.

VICE-PRESIDENT CURTIS likewise declined to discuss Mr. Stimson's decision. Ambassador Davile, of Chile, who is giving a dinner to the Chilean Minister of Finance Thursday night to which the Vice-president and Mrs. Gann are invited, also would say nothing.

It was the opinion of a number in the diplomatic group that, in view of Mr. Stimson's action, the diplomatic corps would decide to accord Mrs. Gann every recognition extended to the Vice-president. No one, however, would speak for publication and as a result interest immediately was directed to ward today's meeting and also the dinner of the Chilean ambassador.

AN ANCIENT GRIVANCE

Speaking of the whole question, a writer in The New York World says: "Official Washington has not been so excited since the famous and beautiful Peggy O'Neil status was the cause of the most important social war in the nation's history. Historians attribute Martin Van Buren's winning of the Presidency to his espousal of her cause against the social oligarchy of that day. A bachelor, Van Buren braved the wrath of the hostesses of his time and won favor with the embittered Andrew Jackson that was to make him President."

WASHINGTON's social dictators of a century ago wait in silence. They were impacable against the tavern keepers' daughter when her marriage to Secretary of War Eaton entitled her to recognition. The undercurrents against Mrs. Gann are not comparable, but they are strong among a few aristocrats, chiefly wives of Senators.

"They kept her from the presidency of the organization of Senators' wives. Mrs. George H. Moses, wife of the Senator from New Hampshire, won the place, which tradition has hitherto given to the Vice-President's wife."

The celebration had been in the nature of a double event, as it marked also the last meeting of the classes in physical culture, which had proved so popular that the average attendance at the eighteen meetings comprising the course was approximately fifty. Miss Thain's orchestra had kindly given their services on Monday evening and had thereby greatly added to the gaiety of the occasion. Songs had been rendered by Billy and Duncan McLean, accompanied by Mrs. A. Stewart, Jr.

Fine Concert At Oak Bay

An enjoyable musical programme was presented in Oak Bay United Church last Friday.

The full choir sang "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower" and "My Bonnie Lass, She Smiled." A ladies' chorus rendered "The Dance of the Pine Tree Fairies" and a men's group "When the Corn is Waving." Semple's string ensemble played "Dream Dance" and "Miserere" in their first group, and especially capturing was their rendering of Rossini's "Italiana in Algiers."

The solo work of Mrs. B. Mayell in "Call Herin," Mrs. G. Stark in "A Part of the Market," Mrs. C. E. McNeill in Chopin's "Lithuanian Song" and W. H. Ruffell, baritone, in "Still as the Night" was excellent. A. N. Baker carried the ecclesiastical side of the programme in humorous and dramatic monologues.

A resolution of appreciation for the assisting artists and the choir was moved by Rev. W. A. Guy.

The women's association served refreshments to the entertainers during a social in the church parlor at the conclusion of the concert.

Woman Killed In Auto Crash

Portland, Ore., April 10.—Mrs. E. R. Koeper, thirty-eight, Bellingham, Wash., en route to a hospital last yesterday from injuries she suffered when an automobile in which she was riding with her husband, overtook and struck her on a Pacific Highway near here. Koeper, who blamed wet pavement, escaped injuries.

Why don't you eat your way to slimmness?

Are you one of those feminine persons who over your French pastry and hot chocolate, sigh for a sylphlike figure?

Overweight usually comes from over-eating. Yet a radically restricted diet is dangerous and difficult to maintain, because of our natural craving for a variety of foods.

The way to reduce is not by eliminating anything from the diet, but by cutting down the quantity of everything, making the sharpest cuts in concentrated foods, which are particularly fattening—sugar, cakes and candy, fats, cream, pie and such slender-wrecks delicacies. Eat lean meats. Use mineral oil in salad dressings. Mineral oil, not being assimilated, adds no calories to the diet.

Your meals should consist largely of vegetables, fruits and milk. They supply important food values—and no diet is safe which ignores this necessity—but they are not fattening. Of these milk is the most important, because it supplies as no other single food does, everything needed for bodily health, growth and activity. You can include it in your diet in various ways. A cream soup gives you a comfortable feeling of having lunched well, supplying essential food values without imperiling your weight. Milk should be used in the preparation of simple desserts to replace rich pie and cake. Custards, blanc manges and other cream puddings are nourishing, and do not threaten increased poundage.

Another way to elude your whipped cream tastes is the use of whipped Carnation Milk as the foundation in bavarinae, cream, charlottes and such dishes. In coffee, too, it gives you the creaminess without the extra calories.

Actually Carnation gives more delicious results in cooking than even the best of bottled milk—smoother, creamier soups and sauces, more velvety ice creams, more delicate, finer-textured puddings and custards. More than that, it is convenient; completely dependable, never varying in quality, and extremely economical.

Send for free Cook Book. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Include It In Your Diet

Carnation Milk—pure whole milk evaporated to double richness—supplies the nourishment imperative to health, and by its uniformly distributed double cream content makes unnecessary the lavish use of cream and butter. Use it for all cooking.

"From Contented Cows" on the label means EVAPORATED MILK of highest quality

Says Comte Serge Fleury in Telling of Influence of English Games on France

Vancouver, April 10.—"The British take their games seriously and silently, playing according to the rules. This has a far reaching effect upon national life. Participation in sports is the best means to build up physique. Teach your boys and girls always to play well, build up their character through sports, for this will put their courage and talent to the test, and from it they will learn all those attributes which make for good citizenship. Through its sports any country can establish an esprit de corps as in no other way, for it is team work which counts in the end."

These were the words of Comte Serge Fleury, delegate from France to the Education Council, addressing members of the Women's Canadian Club here yesterday.

Telling of the "Influence of English games on the life of France," which he took as his subject matter, Comte Fleury stated that not for one moment could it be thought that France had learned all its games from England, and "you must also remember that France really gave birth to many of the games played in England to-day."

"The return of cricket to popularity in France took place in the reign of Louis the Fourteenth," said the speaker. "Football was another game adopted, while, although hockey had found favor in France when it was invented, it was really adopted there after England took it up."

"Lawn tennis, of course, is the Frenchman's game, and it is often said that Frenchmen are born with a racket in their hands. But whether England or France can claim the invention of most of these games, there has always existed the best of feeling between the two countries in sports," the speaker claimed. "When cricket became a universal game in England, France did not seem interested until in the reign of King Philip. Then the Duke of Orleans made racing a fashion and it became fashionable to take part in sports."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

A HAPPY CHILD IS ALWAYS A GOOD CHILD

Everyone is willing to admit that the happy child is good. It is one of those obvious statements with which no one can quarrel. So, in order to encourage good behavior, one has only to keep the child happy. Equally obvious.

Keeping the child happy doesn't mean that he needs to be entertained by his elders, that he should be fed candy and ice cream, or taken to parties, or out visiting at night. These are merely the adult's idea of what makes a child happy, while the right word to apply to such entertainments is that they are not happiness-makers, but excitement-makers.

It isn't difficult to make a small child happy. All he wants is freedom to move, a comfortably full tummy, a soft, warm bed and several times a day to have his position changed, his back rubbed, his limbs stroked and to be carried about. Such methods make him gloriously happy. When he is lying still he can wave his arms wildly (if he isn't tied up tightly in a swaddle), he can kick his legs in the air (if his dresses aren't holding them down), and the numerous times he is changed and the periods he is bathed and nursed give ample opportunity for the mother to pat him and stroke him and walk him about. And baby is happy.

As he grows older, his happiness is just as easy to obtain. He wants to climb. He wants to run. He likes to open and close doors and look into drawers and touch objects and bite them and lift them. He adores lifting things that seem as heavy as himself. Is he allowed to satisfy all these natural impulses? "Don't climb on that chair, you'll get it all dirty!" "Stay out of those drawers, my young man, or you'll get your fingers slapped hard." "Lie down right this minute and don't let me hear a peep out of you."

Is he happy? Suppose you had muscles that were itching to climb and you were stopped each time you were just on the point of accomplishing it? Suppose opening and closing a drawer were a fascinating game that you could play by the hour, but you never got one chance to play it? Suppose, despite all the checking of your activity by a vigilant-eyed mother, you were put down to sleep when you hadn't a wink of sleep in your eyes? Would you rave and rant and scream, "I won't," and throw things around and cause your mother to say, "He has the most awful temper. He's just like his father?"

Why, we close our eyes to the simple things that make a small child happy and then punish him when he is pushed to the point of despair and bad behavior is one of the perquisites of parental nature. It is so easy to make a child happy. Just regular, despite all the checking of your activity by a vigilant-eyed mother, you were put down to sleep when you hadn't a wink of sleep in your eyes? Would you rave and rant and scream, "I won't," and throw things around and cause your mother to say, "He has the most awful temper. He's just like his father?"

One of the most interesting features of the Spring Flower Show, which will be held by the Vancouver Island Horticultural Society at the Willows on April 26 and 27, will be the district displays.

The City of Victoria Challenge Cup will be given for the best district display, and will be held for one year by the winning district. In addition to the challenge cup, three cups to become the property of the winners will be given for the first, second and third exhibits.

Last year there was a number of district exhibits, including Vancouver, and this year P. R. Leighton, the secretary of the society, says there will be many more entries.

The show will be opened by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at 3 p.m. on April 26.

Votes of Sympathy
Passed By Chapter

At the meeting of the Dr. G. M. Jones Chapter, held Tuesday evening a standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, Mrs. Sayer, Mrs. Conyers and the Misses Johnson, who have been recently bereaved.

The sum of $15 was received from Miss Lawson, principal of the Kingston Street School, the proceeds of a concert given by the children in aid of the milk fund, and a donation of $5 was received from an absent member, Mrs. W. Ellis, the chapter's delegate to the provincial annual meeting, gave an interesting report of the meeting.

Further plans were made for the combined Rotary and I.O.O.F. bridge party which is being held on Friday evening.

"Trip to Borders"
Topic of Address

"A Trip to the Borders" was the topic of an address by W. Hastie Cochran, before the Burns Club last night. Mr. Cochran spoke of the history of the Border Country and its association with Scotland.

A musical programme was enjoyed by the members and their friends. Rev. Robert Connell presided.

MOTHERS
THEIR CHILDREN

There were several shoe horns about the house which we never used, my mother-in-law always waiting to take out my kitchen spoons and even my silver ones when they could not find enough of the kitchen ones, to their sandals. Altogether I found six shoe horns and with the aid of some red, yellow and green lacquer which I had left from some painting, I transformed the shoe horns into the best little shoe 'diggers' you ever saw. To add to their attractiveness and their use, I printed the alphabet on them in contrasting colors so that they were useful in teaching them the alphabet as well as being the most desirable of all their sand toys.

Find No Relationship
Of Diet To Cancer

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Man does not live by any single article of diet alone. If he is wise, he eats a variety of substances. He knows that the fundamentals of a wholesome diet include fresh fruits and vegetables and that a well-balanced diet contains proteins, carbohydrates and mineral salts. Such things can be had in meats, eggs, milk, cereals, sugars, butter, oils and many other food substances. One of the ideas most promoted by food fanatics of one type or another is the notion that the eating of any special food substances may be the cause of cancer and that abstinence from some single article of diet will prevent cancer.

In Great Britain research has been undertaken during the past year to find out whether there was any connection between cancer and deficiencies in the diet.

A number of well-controlled experiments were made with the feeding of vitamins A and B and with diets deficient in these vitamins. However, cancer did not develop in any of the rats used in these experiments.

Dr. J. A. Murray, director of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, concludes that there exists no trustworthy evidence, experimental, clinical or statistical, of a causal relationship between cancer and the absence or presence of any particular constituent of the human diet.

It has been shown that the absence of certain vitamins from the diet will result in the appearance of various alarming symptoms and that vast overdoses of some vitamins may have toxic or poisoning effects. However, the poisonous doses are apparently far beyond any quantity that one might get in an ordinary diet.

FOOD FANATICS

Hardly enough has yet been learned to make positive statements or to give definite advice as to the quantities of vitamins to be taken by different persons under different circumstances. Enough is known to say that no definite relationship has been established between vitamin intake and cancer. This announcement will not, however, affect in any way the claims of the food fanatics or food chieftains. They are not interested in facts; they are salesmen of propaganda.

HOW OFTEN DO YOU BATHE?

YOUR body is constantly giving off perspiration—from one to two pints every 24 hours. This moisture dries so quickly that sometimes you do not realize its presence.

Health authorities everywhere say that, to preserve your own good health and self-respect and out of consideration for others, this film of dried moisture should be washed off daily.

Gently, soothingly, Lifebuoy's creamy antiseptic lather washes away this film. It penetrates and cleanses the countless tiny pores of the skin—opens them up—lets them breathe—relaxes tired, tensed nerves and muscles, makes the world look brighter.

And more—Lifebuoy's antiseptic ingredient will stand guard as an invisible shield against infection.

ZBYSZKO SAYS HE IS NOT A GORILLA TYPE

Former Heavyweight Wrestling Champion Files Suit Against Newspaper

Claims Article Has Broken Up Relationship Between Him and His Wife

New York, April 10.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, and the "Iron Man" of sportsworld, yesterday filed suit for $250,000 against the New York American, alleging that newspaper had destroyed his young wife's love for him.

The complaint, filed in the New York county supreme court, alleged that "said publication imputed and caused its readers to believe that the plaintiff is not really a human, but is fundamentally a gorilla."

The complaint said the article involved was printed in The American on March 31. It was a two-page spread entitled: "How science proves its theory of evolution," and among the illustrations was a picture of a gorilla and one of Zbyszko in the crouching wrestler's stance.

Beneath the picture of the wrestler, the complaint charged, was the following caption: "Stanislaus Zbyszko, the wrestler, fundamentally different from the gorilla in physique."

The complaint said that "the shock Mrs. Zbyszko received from reading in a presumably scientific article that her husband bore a strong physical resemblance to a gorilla, was tremendous and created a feeling of abhorrence in her toward him, which has broken up their relationship as husband and wife."

COAST LEAGUE BALL RESULTS

Seattle, April 10.—A double by Manager Ernie Johnson in the eighth inning, which scored Ellsworth, gave Seattle a 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Missions in the first game of the season here yesterday. Approximately 7,000 fans thrived for two hours and thirty-five minutes while the two Coast League clubs fought for runs.

The Missions tied the score four-all in their turn at bat in the eighth, but Johnson came to the rescue and won the opener for Seattle. Johnson's hits for the day numbered three.

Portland, April 10.—Portland won the opening game from Hollywood yesterday 4 to 3, in a galloping ninth-inning finish, which sent the visitors home with a thrill. With the score tied at three-all after Jack Knight had walked, Wetzell scored in a score in the seventh; Hill's grounder to Lee was boosted by the Hollywood shortstop to start the ninth. Keesey singled, ending Hill's to third, and Wetzell then purposely walked. In the pinch Joe Bush connected for a single as Hill's romped home.

Los Angeles, April 10.—Pete Daglia, giant Oakland right-hander, let the Los Angeles Angels down with five scattered hits here yesterday, and the Oaks carried off a 6-1 victory in their season's first appearance here.

Four of the hits of Daglia were made by Walter Berger, the Angels' wall-punching outfielder. The fifth play was a hard pop fly from "Stink" Toisen's bat that blew out of Veres's reach and allowed the lone Angel run to cross the plate.

San Francisco, April 10.—The "hitless Seal" showed up here yesterday and in defeating Sacramento's Senators, 9-3, resembled somewhat the squad that won last year's pennant. San Francisco nicked Raabe for fifteen hits, with Crouse's (shortstop), Jolley (rightfielder) and Caveney (second baseman) each getting three. Johnny Couch, winning pitcher, hit a homer with one on and also singled to drive in another run.

Vancouver Tennis Players Will Not Compete in Trials

Miller, chairman of the Canadian Davis Cup committee, has announced that ten players invited to take part in the trials for the Canadian team at Toronto's early next month, only six will attend. They are Willard Crocker, Dr. Jack Wright and Harold Ralstonville, all of Montreal; Gilbert Nunn, Dr. Art Ham and Walter Martin, all of Toronto.

SCHMELING STILL HAS TROUBLES

German Heavyweight May Remain in Germany and Meet U.S. Fighters

Refuses to Fight Under Present Manager; Commissions Taking a Hand

New York, April 10.—Just when it seems that nothing more can happen to make the controversy between Max Schmeling and his managers more complicated, something always does. Yesterday the argument broadened to take in the Illinois State Athletic Commission and, by inference, the National Boxing Association, rival body of the New York State Athletic Commission.

The New York boxing fathers first received Arthur Burleson, deposed manager of the German heavyweight, as Schmeling's rightful manager. The Illinois commission, dominant factor in the N.B.A., asked the New York board for a copy of the contract Schmeling and Burleson filed with the local commission several months ago. The Middle West commission also asked: "Who is the rightful manager of Schmeling?" and received a decided answer: "Burleson."

Meanwhile Joe Jacobs, United States manager who supplanted Burleson in Schmeling's affections, declared that the "German sensation undoubtedly would remain in Germany indefinitely until Paul Pheasant, chairman of the Illinois commission and president of the N.B.A., joined with the New York fathers in recognizing Burleson."

Jacobs said Schmeling will not box under Burleson's direction and will stay in Germany until the contract expires if necessary. He said that Max could guarantee Jack Sharkey, Boston contender, $100,000 for an open-air match with Schmeling outside Berlin.

There is a possibility, Jacobs said, of German sporting syndicate importing United States heavyweights to box Schmeling in Berlin. Young Strubling, the Georgian, is considering an offer to box overseas. Jacobs said he could guarantee Jack Sharkey, Boston contender, $100,000 for an open-air match with Schmeling outside Berlin.

THEY SAY HE WOULD HIT EVEN BETTER IF HE SHORTENED HIS STRIDE. NAME CARBON CAN HOBBLE HIM...

BOBBY REEVES

ONE OF THE MOST TALENTED INFILDER OF THE "GAME"

A very competent judge of ball players recently stated that Bobby Reeves, of the Boston Red Sox, late of the Washington Senators, is the most talented infielder in the American League. He furthermore said, the most talented infielder in the American League, he would stand out as one of the greatest stars of the game.

Manager Bill Carrigan, who knows ball players, is fully aware of the prospects in the young man and has taken steps to put Reeves in the groove to stardom of the league. So far in his major league career, Bobby has been a shortstop. Carrigan will try to make a third baseman of him. Reeves has one of the strongest arms in the game. In fact, its speed has been more of a handicap than an asset. He throws what ball players call a heavy ball. It comes at terrific speed and drops away, which makes it very difficult for a first baseman to handle. Maybe the longer throw from third will somewhat lessen this tendency in Reeves's throwing.

Last year in the Spring training camp of the Washington Senators, steps were taken to improve Reeves's batting. The Nat strategists figured the lanky kid took too much of a pitch. Reeves was drilled for hours but the season found him doing the same old long stride.

The fact that he batted for a mark of .303, which, by the way, has usually been considered pretty good for an infielder, may make this logic look bad to some observers. In most cases it is found a man's natural form at bat is his best form and when changed it hurts his confidence. Of course, there are the rudiments that most managers insist on.

Should Carrigan find the solution to smoothing out Bobby's defects, Boston fans will find that Bobby alone is an equal exchange for Buddy Myer, whom the Sox sent to Washington for Reeves, Gaston, Gillis, Lisenbee and Bigelow.

NEW CLUBS TO PLAY SOFTBALL

Entries Close on April 23; Ralph Butler New President

With three new clubs already entered in the loop and Tuesday, April 23, set for the final date on which entries will be accepted, the Victoria and Island Softball League promises to get away to an early start this season.

Parfitt Brothers, the Hustlers and North Saanich, were the three new clubs which applied for admittance into the league at the annual meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Ralph Butler, who last year played for the Hillcrest Club, was elected president of the league. Ernie Stock was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Dr. A. Poyntz, secretary of the British Columbia Softball Association, was re-elected secretary of the Provincial body. S. Thomas was elected vice-president.

P. C. Payne, retiring president, gave a brief review of the work done by the league last year and thanked the clubs for their co-operation during the season. He was appointed an honorary officer of the league.

Last year thirty teams played in the league and this year the officials feel confident that an even greater number will enter.

IMPORTANT HOOP GAMES ARE CARDED

Fidels and Axioms Will Play in Final of Ladies' Knock-out Competition

Crescents Meet Duncan; Capitals to Trot Out New Player Against C.P.S.

Three important basketball games are scheduled at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium to-night, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. In the first game Fidels will hook up with the Red Birds in the final of the City League ladies' knock-out competition. The second game will find Duncan senior "A" men opposing Crescents, local intermediate "A" champions, while the final game will see C.P.S. and Capitals battling for the right to enter the final round of the "A" City Knockout League.

Fidels are favored to win as they have been playing great ball lately. Red Birds, on the other hand, have been practicing hard and are in good condition. The Island champions will be at full strength. Their opponents have also sent out a call for all hands.

The Crescents are fortunate in catching Duncan seniors so late in the season, and the youngsters are capable of putting up a great game. The winner of this game will play Duncan senior "B" men in the Lower Island final. The Crescents are anxious to stop this final from being all Duncan.

The Capitals will be up against their old rivals, the winner entering the final of city competition against Keating. The fans will have a chance to see Johnny Craig of Kamloops in action, for he will be out in Capital colors to-night. He was a member of the team that humbled the Winnipeg Toilers two years ago.

Bob Whyte will referee the last game, while Tommy Forbes will officiate in the first two. The probable line-ups of the teams are as follows: Fidels—Isabel Crawford, Bona Macmurtre, Cathie Freeman, Iris Philbrook, Verna Foubister, Connie Robb, Midge Breckenridge and Beth Campbell.

Red Birds—Berta Peden, Torrie Renie, Alice Dean, Dot Lea, Dot Holder and Biddy Boyce. Crescents—Norm McConnell, Lloyd Jones, Bruce Low, Roy Temple, Vernon Jones, Roland Thorpe and Ian Speer. Duncan—C. French, J. Evans, Dinning, MacNichol and Pele. C.P.S.—MacEACHERN, DOWDS, BUTLER, SKILLINGS, WOODRIDGE and Davis. Capitals—Forbes, Boyd, Craig, W. Skillings, Cudlip, Fats and Wachter.

BADGERS WIN MANY PRIZES

Capture Majority of $107,700 Prize Melon at American Bowling Congress

Chicago, April 10.—The largest and most successful American Bowling Congress tournament in history closed last night with the Badgers carrying away the largest out of the record-sized $107,700 prize melon.

Although the Badgers did not enter as many maple leafers as Illinois, they easily carried away more money than any state in the competition. In addition to placing the leader in the singles, five of the first ten leaders in the five-man event, and a member of the Big Ten in the All-events, they hung up scores high enough to win considerable money in the doubles.

Illinois was second, while third place was a matter of conjecture between scattered states in the Middle West and East.

While scores rolled in the 1929 tournament, which started March 2, day after day, the All-time-tourney records, they were considerably better than those chalked up in the 1928 tournament. Every leader's score was higher than last year except in the doubles.

The Hub Receptions of Joliet, Ill., won the five-man event with a 3,083 total. W. Klecz and Pete Butler of Chicago topped the doubles field with 1,353 pins; A. Unke of Milwaukee won the singles with his 728 total, and the all-events champion, topping 1,974 pins.

Only two changes were made in today's final assault, Gus Stefani, Chicago, landed in fifth place in the singles with 718 pins and Richard White, Chicago, crashed 1,927 to take eighth place in the all-events.

McLARNIN BACK IN VANCOUVER

Will Take Short Rest Before Returning East For Title Bout With Dundee

Vancouver, April 10.—Accompanied by his manager, "Pop" Foster, Jimmy McLarnin returned to Vancouver over the week-end following a three-months' invasion of the East. Jimmy has three bouts this time, scoring two victories over Joe Glick, while he secured sweet revenge over Ray Miller before nearly 21,000 people in New York. Jimmy looks the picture of health and after two or three weeks of playing golf will return to his title bout with Joe Dundee.

"Pop" Foster states that he has offers to match his protégé with Stan Loyaza and Billy Petrolle in the new stadium in Chicago, and if satisfactory terms are forthcoming will accept both bouts, provided they are not too close to the title event with Dundee.

McLarnin is now tipping the scales around 145. He will engage in no more light-weight bouts, confining his activities, in the immediate future to the welterweight class.

Foster is very partial to Chicago, and the new stadium which will accommodate 25,000 persons. He says it has a movable roof and can be made an outdoor arena in the summer. When they came through the Windy City recently, a three-ring circus was holding the centre of attraction. Hockey will be played there next winter.

Foster says that William F. Carey, former Vancouver man, is greatly thought of by all having business with the Garden in New York. He plays the fight game, fair and his word is good. Foster is dealing with Carey regarding the Dundee-McLarnin fight.

Concerning Jimmy's last fight with Ray Foster in the Belmont Hotel, he was forced to chase his man all over the ring, the Chicago boy refusing to mix.

NEW DIRECTORS FOR GOLF CLUB

Seven Men Added to Directorate of Gorge Vale Club; Plan Campaign

D. W. Hanbury, N. W. Pirrie, D. M. Baillie, J. D. Kinsinger, B. F. Schweigert, G. C. Howell and J. C. Smart were nominated to places on the directorate of the Gorge Vale Golf Club at a meeting held in the Belmont Hotel board room last night. All were willing to accept the posts and will be elected in due order.

N. W. Pirrie, chairman of the special committee of the Gorge Vale Golf Club to consider the finances of the company, stated that from a survey of the work done on the course he was convinced that money spent on improvements had been judiciously used.

PLAN TO RAISE FUNDS

The committee recommended that trustees be named to take charge of the sale of bonds, all moneys secured being paid into a trustees' account, and only to be utilized provided a minimum of $20,000 was subscribed. It was further suggested that those members, who were originally on a $10 per annum payment basis should be asked to change over to a cash or with the sale of bonds would enable the course and clubhouse to be completed immediately.

A canvass of the members was also planned in order to secure funds to complete work on the course and clubhouse. It was suggested that a body of fifty members should undertake this work.

KING'S PLATE WILL DRAW A RECORD ENTRY

Oldest Continuously-run Stake on Continent to Be Big Event This Year

Thorncliffe and Seagram Stable Entries Are Joint Favorites to Win

Toronto, Ont., April 10.—It is early yet to consider closely the merits of the candidates for the King's Plate, outstanding event of the Canadian turf, but the season will open at old Woodbine Park here on May 18 and perhaps a record field will start in the classic, which features the opening day programme. At any rate, fifty-eight Canadian-breds are named in the entries for the 1928 renewal of the oldest continuously-run stake event on the American continent.

The race will be over the mile and a quarter course, for the fifty guineas offered by the King and $15,000 added by the Ontario Jockey Club, and the winner of the closing juvenile home-bred stakes, and Circulet, the speedy Seagramite who was undefeated until he broke down in the Clarendon Plate. Outside entries, however, are given to Loftus in the Mail and Empire says: "At this time a King's Plate story can be hardly more than a memorandum of the two-year-old form of the entrants, and this form is generally inadequate. The juvenile records do not show a candidate's worth over a mile, and as the plate distance is ten furlongs, only breeding can be used as authority for staying power. Again, the two-year-old ugly duckling often comes out the swan in his three-year-old year. Older entries, must carry crushing impost in the scale of weights, and most handicappers therefore consider their chances mighty slim."

Gossip among Canadian turf enthusiasts appear to centre the favoritism on the Thorncliffe and Seagram stable entries, with the bulk of the support going to Pin Wheel, winner of the closing juvenile home-bred stakes, and Circulet, the speedy Seagramite who was undefeated until he broke down in the Clarendon Plate. Outside entries, however, are given to Loftus in the Mail and Empire says: "At this time a King's Plate story can be hardly more than a memorandum of the two-year-old form of the entrants, and this form is generally inadequate. The juvenile records do not show a candidate's worth over a mile, and as the plate distance is ten furlongs, only breeding can be used as authority for staying power. Again, the two-year-old ugly duckling often comes out the swan in his three-year-old year. Older entries, must carry crushing impost in the scale of weights, and most handicappers therefore consider their chances mighty slim."

The ENTRIES

Circulet, Irish Sphre and Dance Circle are the trio entered by the Seagrams and on their juvenile form to midseason the first two named appear to have a real chance to repeat the success of the Waterloo establishment.

"Fred Schelke, placid conditioner of the Thorncliffe Stable string, will undoubtedly pin his hopes on Pin Wheel, the champion of the first St. Ignace-Skyrocket, bred by Mrs. J. P. Sten at her Cobourg farm. Then there is also Shoreline, a winner at Woodbine in the Fall; and Fair Oil, another with a keen turn of speed. Pin Wheel was the first to cross under the wire in front of the meteoric Circulet and he repeated impressively in the leading home-bred juvenile test, the Woodbine second meeting. Here is the favorite, according to early calculations.

"Cuddle Doon, a trim bay Lovette filly, will likely be the first string in the Hasting Stable's bow. She has developed into a beautiful three-year-old and she will be a threat if she runs back to her juvenile form when she won three races.

From juvenile form it does not appear as though J. C. Fletcher will hold as strong a hand in the King's plate as he did last year with Hanna Debe and Dushka. The latter and Ichitara are entered, but must tote four-year-old weight.

"H. Ryland New, the Hamilton man whose colors flew victoriously over Troutlet in the 1927 Plate in his first season on the turf, is back again on the list. He is owned by J. C. Corera, Vestrup, Bendor and Editor's. White of Cadecarast farm will likely pin his hopes on the Gauntly filly, Ladycrest and R. W. R. Cowie may have a contender in his Macey Bobbie.

"Two 1928 winners that showed a decided liking for a distance of ground are Robt. Newell's Androme and Mrs. Ed. Glassco's Denny Fair. The Windsor sportsman provided a sterling contender in 1927, when Mr. Galety carried the red-starred green jacket into second position."

SCHOOL TEAM WILL TRAVEL

Victoria High Boys' Basketball Team to Play in New Westminster

Townsend in Draw With Portland

Portland, Ore., April 10.—Joe Marcus, Portland, and Billy Townsend, 135 pounds, Vancouver, B.C., fought ten lightning rounds to a draw last night as the main event of the weekly boxing card. In the last three rounds they slugged toe to toe, but the fight ended with both on their feet and no advantage either way. Marcus weighed 135 pounds.

WOUNDED VETERAN SEEKS WORD OF MILITARY DOCTOR

Word as to the present address of Major C. Foster, M.C., who was identified with a military hospital at Beulah, England, and later believed to have served in a similar capacity in Victoria or Vancouver, is sought by Donald A. Duncan, a badly-wounded war veteran of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, now resident at 369 Mackay Street, Ottawa. Donald A. Duncan was wounded at Hill 70 and on a number of other occasions, including a brush with spikes in which he was stabbed in the back. He is now seeking proof to complete the chain of circumstance which would, according to his statements, substantiate his claim to a war pension, some twelve years overdue.

INFLUENCE OF STARS SHOWN

Randolph Stuart Is Speaker at Astronomical Society Meeting

Describing the far-reaching influence of the stars upon modern thought, religious belief and literature, Randolph Stuart last night addressed the Victoria branch of the Astronomical Society on "Stellar Influences."

Mr. Stuart quoted from the Bible and other ancient literature and from Shakespeare and poetry of all ages to illustrate his points. Along with his address he quoted some of his own poetry, inspired by the night sky.

A business meeting preceded the lecture. W. E. Harper, president of the Dominion organization, giving a summary of the year's progress in various centres of Canada. The membership of the Victoria club had substantially increased, making it second in strength, numerically, to the Toronto society, he showed.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Stuart was moved by Dr. J. B. Plaskett, seconded by C. C. Pemberton.

Practical work on the telescope will be described at the next meeting of the society on April 30. Dr. Plaskett will relate the history of the giant seventy-two-inch telescope at the Sanich Observatory.

A splendid program for the afternoon as well as the evening's entertainment is being arranged; details to be announced at an early date.

At a recent executive meeting of the Equimait Rural Nursing Service the following report was presented by the nurse in charge for the month of March:

An energetic committee had carefully studied all details and was assisted Friday evening by Mesdames A. Godfrey, Shields, Hopwood, Parker, Murray and the Misses Kelly.

John Southwell, president of the Optimists, extended greetings and thanked all for their co-operation.

During the evening, bouquets of flowers were presented to several who were always willing to assist the Optimists in their activities. Miss Gladys Robinson made the presentation to Miss Kelly, honorary president and founder of the club. Similar presentations were made to Mrs. H. Parker and Mrs. R. B. Murray by Misses Irene Peatt and Ina Brown.

Music for the dancing was supplied by the Melodians' orchestra. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Brentwood

The Institute Hall, Brentwood, was the scene of a happy gathering on Saturday evening when 150 guests attended a "get together" supper and social arranged by members of the Anglican Churches of South Saanich. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, the banquet tables being prettily arranged with baskets of calli-lilies and lilies.

A toast to the King was proposed by Rev. J. S. A. Bastin.

L. E. Taylor gave a short address explaining the financial status of the church. A community sing was led by Mr. David, organist of Christ Church Cathedral, after which an excellent programme was given by the Cathedral concert party as follows: Vocal solo, "How Dear To Me The Hour," Master Richard Eaton; violin solo, "Adoration," Master Geo. Tate; vocal duet, "I Waited For The Lord," Masters Richard Eaton and Norman Clarke; violin solo, "Fair Rosemary," Master Geo. ## Scott's Mother To Be Honored On Anniversary

Reuter's Special To The Victoria Times
London, April 10.—The bi-centenary of the birth of Walter Scott, the father of Sir Walter Scott, which falls this year, is not to be allowed to pass without recognition of his wife, Anne Rutherford, who played such an important part not only in the life of her husband, but also in that of her gifted son.

Anne Rutherford, the eldest daughter of Dr. John Rutherford, Professor of Medicine in Edinburgh, was only about eighteen years of age when, in April, 1758, she was married to Walter Scott, and set up house in College Wynd, now Guthrie Street. The young bride had a bright and happy disposition, was extremely well educated for her time, and combined a love of poetry and music with other more domestic accomplishments.

Mrs. Scott was a kind and gentle mother to all her children, but Walter was undoubtedly her favorite. His lambent smile was a special appeal to her tender heart, yet when her eldest son Robert joined the navy, and another son, John, joined the army, she openly rejoiced that Walter was lame, and so could not be accepted for either of these services. Even when he was a middle-aged man, a baronet, a father of a family, and famous all over the world, to Mrs. Scott he was still "Walter, my lamb."

The lame boy was debarred from many recreations, and used to spend many hours reading poetry and ballads to his mother. In his autobiography Sir Walter tells us: "My mother had a good natural taste and great feeling; she used to make me pause upon those passages which expressed generous and worthy sentiments," though, boylike, he preferred
"the wonderful and the terrible." Mrs.
Scott had a fine memory and a great gift for telling stories, and kept Walter spellbound while she related thrilling tales of old Scottish families. In his later years Sir Walter always attributed to his mother much of his own knowledge of the manners and customs of previous generations.

LONDON HOSPITALS TO POOL RADIUM AND SEEK MORE

Big Company to Be Formed to Mine For Supply in Portugal

Reuter's Special To The Victoria Times
London, April 10.—During recent weeks two important efforts have been initiated to solve the world's radium problem.

The London hospitals, beneficiaries under the King Edward Fund, have agreed to pool supplies of radium and to lend it to the less fortunate hospitals in the London area, and a company is to be formed which will acquire two radium mines in the northeast of Portugal, for which, it is reported, a quarter of a million pounds will be subscribed by debenture shareholders, who will obtain seven per cent upon their capital and will hand over their products to the hospitals.

The scheme "deserves every encouragement," but meanwhile the question of the supply of radium for the cure of cancer becomes acute. The main source, practically the only tested source, is in the Belgian Congo, and the company which controls that supply is able to dictate prices to the world. They charge £10,000 a gramme to this country, and it is acknowledged, higher prices to other countries out of the European system. The price of radium can be reduced and will be reduced by unselfish effort.
but it appears from inquiries in London as to co-operation between hospitals in Great Britain, and the needs of great hospitals in large provincial centres, that these things depend entirely upon the King Edward Fund.
The fact remains, however, that between forty and fifty thousand people die of cancer every year in this country.
It is not a matter for the London hospitals alone. We have not enough radium for our present needs, and until as the result of effort, there is enough, some wider co-operative scheme should be considered.

House Is Jealous Of Speakers' Repute, Lady M.P. Apologizes

Reuter's Special To The Victoria Times
London, April 10.—A woman member of Parliament, who made disparaging remarks concerning the Deputy Speaker in an article in a weekly newspaper, found that in her absence her action had been brought to the notice of the House and in consequence she was compelled to apologize.

The House is always very jealous of its privileges and of the respect due to its officials. A few months ago, the editor of a London evening newspaper was censured for allowing a certain statement to appear in his columns, but on the advice of the Prime Minister the matter was left there and the editor was not summoned to the bar of the House to be formally rebuked.

On two or three occasions in the past week visitors in the public galleries have interrupted the proceedings of a debate, but the only punishment inflicted in recent times for this offence is confinement in the Clock Tower until the rising of the House. Before any member of the public is allowed to enter the gallery he is required to sign a form promising not to cause any disturbance.

Few people realize how limited in power is the right to criticize Parliament or its members, for, although the old powers of punishment are not used, they are still in existence. The first important record of a rebel on a Speaker was in 1774, when a letter appeared in The Public Advertiser reflecting on his character and conduct.
The editor was committed to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms. An apology usually averts the consequences of any such offences, but if a member defies the House and the Chair, remedies are available. In 1887 a member who published an attack on the Speaker was the subject of the severest condemnation and was suspended for the remainder of the session. Since then many other cases have been brought forward and disposed of by apology or suspension.

THE TINY TALES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KUNCK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

With Mister Coofygoo tied tight, each happy little Tynny was anxious now to walk right in to wondrous Thunderland. Of all the happy little crowds that stood upon a group of clouds, they were, no doubt, the happiest, as you can understand.

Said Clowney, "Well, I think that we can solve this little mystery of what's up here in Thunderland. That's what we came here for. If we are going to walk right in, we must be well prepared. The gateway's open, so we cannot knock upon a door."

"All right," said Carpy. "Take the lead. We'll stay behind so if you need some help we all can lend a hand. Now let's not be afraid. Ahead of them a cloud arose, and Scouty whispered, "Goodness knows how we are going to get through that. I wish I had a space."

"I'd dig right in and make a hole."

Then Clowney said, "Well, bless my soul, that cloud is splitting right apart. It's opening like a door. And he was right, 'cause, sure enough, a lane led through the fluffy stuff. The Tynnies grew nervy and were on their way once more."

When once inside of Thunderland they looked around and thought it grand. A lot of clouds were here and there, as pretty as could be. Said Clowney, "I'll bet that they make heaps of thunder night and day. The man who runs this funny place I'd surely love to see."

They wandered onward in a line, and everyone agreed 'twas fine. Then Carpy stopped and shouted, "Look! What is that funny thing?" Then up to it they promptly ran and found it was a watering can. It hung between two standing clouds, and a push would make it swing.

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1929

This is rather an uncertain day in planetary direction, according to astrologers. It is a time for cautious conduct in matters of importance. The rule is most promising to engineers and all who engage in ambitious constructive projects. Business is to characterize all the plans for public improvements in every part of the country. It is foretold. Under the planetary government that has power at this time the human mind will recognize few limitations, and great things will be accomplished in the world of progress. Beauty is to be the watchword, and Americans are to grasp true ideals that affect even the most insignificant matters. Women will seek natural charm and more and more discard what is artificial. The seers prophesy. Many will attain great intellectual development. Writers again are subject to the most stimulating planetary influences. Every one will take out poems and books, if the stars are right. Far-reaching trade agreements are prospected for the United States by foreign astrologers.

While authors multiply, literature will languish, astrologers predict, although they forecast the recognition of new geniuses in America. Now tin and copper mines will cause excitement next Summer, it is forecast. More millionaires will be numbered in the income tax lists, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the assurance of a year of great fortune. Success is indicated and intellectual progress. Children born on this day are likely to rise to high places. The subjects of this sign are usually dignified and reliable. They generally attain honors as well as wealth.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Mud Puddle

Copyright, 1929, By McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD K. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily hopped along very quickly, with Bully and Bawly, the frog boys who had no tails, hopping beside him.

"I hope we find Taddy!" croaked Bully.

"So do I!" croaked Bawly. "It's terrible to lose your little brother, isn't it, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Yes, it is very sad," said the rabbit gentleman. "But I'm sure we shall find Taddy. You show me where you left him and we'll begin to hunt from there."

As I told you in the story before this, Uncle Wiggily was hopping around looking for adventures, when near the Duck Pond, he found an old tomato can with some water in it. He took the can home to plant a dandelion flower in it for his wife when, all of a sudden, he heard the school bell ringing fast, as if there was a fire.

However, there was no fire. But Bully and Bawly, who were in school, just happened to remember that they had started out that morning with Taddy, their little brother. And after playing on the way, all of a sudden the last bell rang and Bully and Bawly hurried to school. Taddy explained Bully as he and Bawly hopped along with Uncle Wiggily.

"But after a while, in class, we remembered we had left him some place," croaked Bawly. "He—she—told the teacher and she rang the bell to get the Police Dog."

"There's Taddy now!"

"And I happened to hop along and I said I would find Taddy, and here we are, now, out looking for him," went on Uncle Wiggily. "But tell me, boys, where did you leave your little brother?"

"Over by the Duck Pond, where we were throwing stones in the water," explained Bully.

"Then we'll begin to look there—at the Duck Pond," decided the kind old rabbit gentleman.

So Bully and Bawly, who had been let out of school by Miss Mouse so they might find their little lost tadpole brother, hurried along with Uncle Wiggily. Soon they were at the Duck Pond.
